

A surrealist painting featuring a woman's face in profile, her eyes closed, as if sleeping. The face is rendered in a soft, painterly style with muted tones. It is enclosed within a transparent, arched glass dome. Inside the dome, along with the face, are delicate, branching coral-like structures in shades of orange and pink. Several large, pale flowers with yellow centers are also visible, some appearing to be part of the scene inside the dome and others floating around it. The background is dark and textured, with faint, sketchy lines suggesting foliage. The overall mood is dreamlike and ethereal.
